

The team behind ErgoPro helped me to bespoke the system to fit this particular environment and the feedback it gives to both the user and myself regarding each individual assessment is I believe superior to other systems in the market place.

ErgoPro Media Customer

Work related pain costs the UK more than £5.7 billion every year

I have used the system for about twenty months and it has proved a revelation the system has allowed me to control the risk of WRULD within a higher risk office environment.

ErgoPro is an online training and risk assessment system for display screen equipment (DSE) risk management.

ErgoPro automates many of the DSE assessment compliance tasks:

- Training and assessment requests by email
- Automated reminders to ensure a high level of staff compliance
- Automatic 'solutions' documents sent to staff if their assessment indicates they need further training
- Administrators are alerted if a face to face follow-up is required.
- Full audit trail
- Management reports at the click of a mouse

ErgoPro dramatically reduces the amount of administration involved with a risk assessment and compliance.

Other Features

- ErgoPro can be updated to suit your own working environment and equipment, such as graphic artists, edit suites and trader desks
- The content and training documents can be bespoke to match your company approach, look and feel.

Prices

ErgoPro is priced on a per use basis and one licence is used when an assessment is carried out. There are no installation, setup or other up-front costs
